Predictive Services:	Cooling & Moistening Trend This Weekend... <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Beautiful fall week. No precipitation until Sunday 10/18. Temps will be above seasonal normal, nights will be in the mid to low 30s. Should have good RH recover for the week.</li> <li>• Potential for record breaking high temps, for Idaho.</li> <li>• Saturday/Sunday we may see some precip and higher RHs for the weekend. Some winds coming in ahead of the system. 15-20 mph winds.</li> <li>• Models are staying consistent.</li> </ul>
GBCC Update:
1 Fire: Walker IC:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• 4202 acres / 35% contained / 394 people on the incident /1.27M</li> <li>• IR flight last</li> <li>• South flank looking really good, showing more containment in this area. Working from the south and working both flanks North.</li> <li>• West; direct hand line constructed, cup trench, and</li> <li>• East; brought the fire down to the 311 road and looking secure. One large slop over but caught it.</li> <li>• North flank is anchored on the Grimes road. Putting in 4 hotshot crews to punch in this line. Objective is to keep it south of Rattle Snake creek.</li> <li>• The line between Grimes and 311 – going direct on this section. Using the network of logging roads in the area. Prepping this area for possible burn out along along that road to hold it of South of Manhattan road.</li> <li>• Critical need; nothing</li> <li>• Grimes road closure continues.</li> <li>• Public meeting; 50+, very good feedback, the local residence were happy to get the information. They did ask for a second meeting for updates, nothing is currently scheduled but looking to have a meeting later in the week.</li> <li>• ICP has nearly functional phone system. Still working on some lines</li> </ul>
